13. Mike and Ana Fisher. Read about this couple and decide if the sentences below are true or false.

Mike Fisher and his wife, Ana, who is Mexican, both work at the King’s Hotel in the centre of Edinburgh. Mike is the hotel manager and Ana works in the hotel bistro. Mike says: ‘Thirteen million people visit Edinburgh every year. In our hotel we have sixty rooms and we have visitors from all over the world, especially from Japan and the States. I speak English, Spanish, French and German. I don’t speak Japanese. Ana speaks Spanish, of course, English and Japanese. Our guests like doing lots of different things. On a typical day they have breakfast in the hotel restaurant; our breakfast includes bacon and eggs, porridge, tea or coffee and toasts. After breakfast they visit the Castle and go shopping along the Royal Mile. They come back to the hotel at around five, have something to drink and relax. Then in the evening they go to the theatre. We work long hours. I work from six o’clock in the morning until half past three in the afternoon and Ana works from five in the evening until half past one in the morning, but we both love our work. We love meeting people of all nationalities’.

18. Writing. An email to a penfriend. Read Mike’s email to his friend and study its organization.

   Dear Christopher,
   I’m a student at a Sixth Form College in Oxford and I’m seventeen years old. I don’t live in Oxford but in a village just outside. I go to school by bus. I like listening to all types of podcasts in my computer and I love playing cricket. At weekends I go out with my friends. Sometimes we go for a walk and sometimes we just chat.
   I speak English and German, but I don’t speak French. My favourite subject at school is Maths, but I don’t like Arts and Crafts.
   What about you? Where do you live? What do you like doing in your free time? I hope you write to me soon.

   Best wishes,
   Mike
